INFORMATION ABOUT GUM SCULPTING//GUM LIFT CROWN LENGTHENING SURGERY

What will it involve?

Crown lengthening is used to treat “gummy” smiles or to increase the length of short teeth.

This procedure is carried out under local anaesthetic and you will be comfortable throughout the procedure. It will involve raising a gum flap. The bone and gum will then be re-shaped to the required amount. At the end of the procedure, the gum will be stitched back to the appropriate place. A dressing may be placed. You will need to come back 1-2 weeks later for the stitches to be removed and will be reviewed regularly thereafter. Your dentist will be informed on the best time to place your provisional and definitive restoration(s)/crown(s)/bridge(s) if appropriate.

Benefits

- To lengthen the teeth to improve smile aesthetics/appearance.

Risks

- Pain - can be managed using over-the-counter painkillers and these are usually required for 1 week.
- Swelling and bruising may occur depending on the length and extent of the procedure.
- A temporary increase in bleeding from the gums.
- Sensitivity but this is usually short-lasting and can be managed with toothpastes designed to reduce sensitivity.
- Due to the reshaping of the gum, there may be recession and the teeth may look longer. The spaces between them may be larger.
- Bone removal and gum reshaping may be required for the adjacent teeth.
- Transient or permanent tooth looseness.

Timings

Dependant on the number of teeth involved but can vary from 1-3 hours.

Fees

Dependant on the number of teeth and complexity.
